Information:

- You must fill in this form completely. Nonresidents must possess a valid master or general state/federal falconry licenses from their home state and a raptor trapping permit before attempting to take a raptor from the wild in Wisconsin. Your home state must be listed as a cooperating state in 50 CFR 21.29 (k). You may apply for only one permit per trapping season. It is your responsibility to familiarize yourself with Wisconsin Falconry Regulations (Chapter NR 18 of the Natural Resources Code), Wisconsin Trespass Law, and restrictions on public lands.
- NR 18.12 (2) Nonresident Raptor Trapping Permit (d) The nonresident raptor trapping permittee shall notify the Department's Bureau of Endangered Resources within 5 days of any take and provide information on the take on forms provided by the Department's Bureau of Endangered Resources.

Notice: To apply for a Nonresident Raptor Trapping permit, you are required to provide all applicable information requested on this form pursuant to s. NR 18.02 Wis. Admin. Code. Personal information collected on this form will be used to process your request and may also be made available to requestors under Wisconsin's Open Records law [ss. 19.31-19.39, Wis. Stats.].

Raptors you plan to acquire from the wild in Wisconsin

Number and Species	Age	Sex	Source: Detailed Location of Capture
	Eyas Passage Adult
	Eyas Passage Adult

Fill in, to the best of your knowledge, a description of the raptors you plan to obtain including how many of which species. Circle an age category and fill in sex. In the Source column, indicate where you plan to obtain the bird(s). Include the type of area (nest, roadside, forest, etc.) and it's location in the state (County, Township, Range, Section, etc.) Note that if you take a Northern Goshawk eyas, you are required to furnish details about the nest – location to the quarter of the quarter section, tree species and health, dates of visits to the nest, method of checking the nest, and number of eyasses in the nest. All traps must be tagged with the owner's name, address, and trapping permit number and must be attended AT ALL TIMES. A federal marker must be attached to the raptor immediately upon capture. It is illegal to transport the raptor within or from Wisconsin without the marker attached.
